Dear Race Fans,

Thank you for your presence today at the 20th Anniversary Racing for Sight. Through your generosity and support the Retina Foundation of the Southwest is able to continue its research into macular degeneration, pediatric eye disorders, and genetic eye diseases.

The critical research carried out by the Foundation requires inspiration and constant dedication. Your support allows their devoted team of experts to continue advancing sight saving treatments for children and adults who are losing their vision to eye disease.

Racing for Sight helps to fund critical projects, such as their Reading & Motor Skills program that is improving academic accommodations for children with eye disorders to help keep them in school. As a retired educator with 35 years of experience, this program is especially dear to my heart.

The impact of your contributions today will continue long after today's event by helping sustain the Foundation's center of excellence, as well as the creative environment that combines scientific and medical disciplines to expedite innovation and research.

I especially want to thank Jean Buys and her staff for a truly outstanding job in bringing today's highly successful event to fruition.

Sincerely,

Jean Broughton-Powell

Jean Broughton-Powell
20th Anniversary Honorary Race Chair

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the 20th Anniversary Racing for Sight! This event benefits the Retina Foundation of the Southwest's mission to prevent vision loss and restore sight through innovative research and treatment.

We are so pleased to have Jean Broughton-Powell as our Honorary Chair for this year's race. Jean is known for her outstanding commitment to supporting philanthropic efforts through the G.C. Broughton Jr. Foundation. We are most appreciative of her leadership role in this year's race and for her continued dedication and unwavering support of the Retina Foundation.

We wish to thank all of our sponsors and contributors to Racing for Sight for their generous support. We are particularly grateful to the past Racing for Sight Chairs and current Committee Members who have spent countless hours of their time planning and organizing this exceptional 20th Anniversary Racing for Sight!

For 35 years, the Retina Foundation has focused on developing treatments for age-related macular degeneration, pediatric eye disorders, and inherited eye diseases. What sets the Retina Foundation apart is the service we provide to our patients and their families at no cost. Each year, there are more than 2,300 infants, children, adults and seniors who visit the Retina Foundation for advanced visual evaluations free of charge. Our evaluations are unique because many of our testing methods are only available at the Retina Foundation. Our goal is to continue advancing sight saving treatments to make a lifetime of good vision a reality for everyone.

On behalf of everyone at the Retina Foundation of the Southwest, thank you for attending this year's race and for standing with us to help advance our mission. Your investment and your vision for a bright future for everyone afflicted with age-related macular degeneration, pediatric eye disorders, and inherited eye diseases is what makes Racing for Sight possible!

Enjoy this wonderful day and good luck at the races,

Karl Csaky, M.D., Ph.D.
Managing & Medical Director
Retina Foundation of the Southwest

Friends of the Retina Foundation of the Southwest,

Welcome to the 20th Anniversary Racing for Sight event benefitting research that advances the scientific frontiers of human vision. It is hard to believe that this is the 20th year of this event. We are pleased to have Jean Broughton-Powell as the Honorary Chair for this year's race. On behalf of the board members and scientists of the Retina Foundation of the Southwest, I thank Jean for her support

Our title sponsor this year is ORIX Foundation. We thank ORIX for their unwavering support of the Retina Foundation. There are also numerous volunteers who have given countless hours of their time to ensure a successful outcome for the race this year. We could not have accomplished so much without their support. I would like to thank all of the people and organizations that have donated items to Racing for Sight. These generous donations have helped make this the successful event it is.

This is an exciting time at the Retina Foundation of the Southwest! Our scientists have been incredibly productive over the last year with several new advances to help those suffering from vision loss. We encourage all of you to call and schedule a tour of our research facility located at North Central Expressway and Walnut Hill in Dallas. Our research institute and custom labs are state of the art and help facilitate our research in age-related macular degeneration, pediatric eye disorders, and inherited eye diseases.

On behalf of everyone at the Retina Foundation of the Southwest, we thank you for attending this year's race and supporting our research. Your attendance and participation at this year's race helps the Retina Foundation continue to make progress in the science of vision.

Thank you,

David Callanan, M.D.
Chairman of the Board

ABOUT THE RETINA FOUNDATION OF THE SOUTHWEST

The Retina Foundation of the Southwest is one of the country's premier eye research facilities. Located in Dallas, the Retina Foundation is a leader in research on age-related macular degeneration, pediatric eye disorders, and inherited eye diseases. Each year we see more than 2,300 patients, ranging from infants to seniors, for free in-depth vision testing. Our mission is to prevent vision loss and restore sight through innovative research and treatment.

- The Retina Foundation of the Southwest was established in 1975. Today, the Foundation operates a facility of five laboratories, a regional database of patients with inherited retinal degenerations, and a staff of 22 researchers who conduct cutting-edge research into the causes and treatments of vision loss.
- We discovered that DHA in mother's milk is necessary for infant eye and brain development. Now, enhanced formula containing DHA is sold worldwide.
- We are the first institution to enroll patients for a clinical trial on dry age-related macular degeneration involving adult human neural (brain) stem cells.
- We transformed surgical practice through our discovery that congenital cataracts must be removed during the first weeks of life to enable normal vision and brain development.
- Our home vision test and iPhone app, called myVisionTrack®, is FDA approved. This new test has the potential to prevent vision loss for seniors by providing a method for ophthalmologists to remotely monitor their patients in between appointments.
- We helped discover the functions of two genes that cause Stargardt disease (juvenile macular degeneration) and four genes that cause autosomal dominant retinitis pigmentosa.

ABOUT THE RETINA FOUNDATION OF THE SOUTHWEST

- Our research has led to the FDA approval of the Argus II Retinal Prosthesis System. Our patients, who are blind due to advanced retinitis pigmentosa, are able to distinguish letters, objects, trees and much more when using this “bionic eye” artificial retina.
- Our research has found a more effective way to detect “lazy eye” (amblyopia) in preschool children. The Pediatric Vision Scanner directly assesses misalignment between the two eyes instead of risk factors, which can lead to misdiagnosis.
- The Southwest Eye Registry at the Retina Foundation is the only depository of DNA samples for genetic eye diseases in the southwest. This work has led to the discovery of a number of genes that cause various eye diseases.
- We are the first institution to show that “lazy eye” (amblyopia) can be effectively treated with binocular iPad game play, rather than the standard treatment of patching the fellow eye.
- With the help of an endowment from T. Boone Pickens, the Retina Foundation was able to expand research on age-related macular degeneration. In 2009, Dr. Karl Csaky, was named the T. Boone Pickens Senior Scientist and Director of the Molecular Ophthalmology Laboratory.
- The Retina Foundation of the Southwest and the Bobby B. Lyle School of Engineering at Southern Methodist University recently established a collaboration to create the Clinical Center of Innovation for Age-Related Macular Degeneration through a grant from the W.W. Caruth, Jr. Foundation at Communities Foundation of Texas. The objective is to pioneer a new method of medical research to find tools to better diagnose and treat AMD, and help patients live more independent, quality-filled lives through early detection, delaying onset and slowing progression of the disease.
